G. SHAW,
Reſpectfully informs the public, he has received from
ROBERT JOHNSTON,
Apothecary, No. 20, Green ſtreet, Soho, London, a freſh and very conſiderable ſupply of his highly eſteemed Medicine.

AWARE of the depredations made on every public medicine of eſtabliſhed repute and extenſive ſale, R. Johnſton, obtained the King of England's Patent for his invention, not "to recommend" but "to diſtinguiſh," Whitehead's Eſſence of Muſtard from SPURIOUS IMITATIONS.

"Five years have now elapſed ſince Mr. Johnſton firſt made known to the world this very extraordinary medicine; during this ſhort period, its efficacy has been ſo clearly demonſtrated that its ſale has far exceeded any former example; comparitively there are few families in England or the United States which have not either heard of or experienced its beneficial effects and with heartfelt ſatisfaction he had the happineſs to declare Whitehead's Eſſence of Muſtard has cured more perſons afflicted with Rheumatiſms, Gout, Lumbago, Palſy, Complaints of the Stomach and other Painful Maladies.

Than all the Medicines ever before made public, indeed, the inſtances, of its efficacy and letters of acknowledgment from "the moſt reſpectable characters" are ſo numerous that a large volume could not poſſibly contain them, it has alſo obtained the approbation of the moſt eminent men of the faculty and is honoured by the uſe and recommendation of the firſt families in England, Ireland and America.

A COUNTERFEIT.

R. JOHNSTON has reaſon to believe a large quantity under the name of "Improved Eſſence of Muſtard," as well as many others has been ſhipped for America, and conſiders it his duty to prevent impoſition and diſappointment.

He therefore requeſts the afflicted to be particular in the purchaſe of his bottles, boxes, labels, and bill of directions which are cloſely copied, and words "by royal authority," artfully ſubſtituted for the words "by the king's patent" which may elude common obſervation.

The Genuine is diſtinguiſhed by the ſignature of R. Johnſton, in his own hand writing on each label, and as an additional ſecurity is further ſigned on the outſide wrapper by his only agent for the United States. G. SHAW, No. 129 Cheſnut ſtreet, Philadelphia, by whom it is ſold wholeſale and retail, in pills and in a fluid ſtate at one dollar each, box or bottle

FOR CHILBLAINS, SPRAINS AND BRUISES,

It is a certain and effectual remedy, ſeldom requiring more than three or four applications.

To the candid and liberal of the FACULTY, R. Johnſton reſpectfully ſubmits the following obſervations. The Fluid Eſſence of Muſtard, is an embrocation worthy their particular attention, it differs in its nature from all others, and is out of the beaten tract of general practice—It is an active ſtimulant, eaſily controuled; may be either increaſed or diminiſhed in its ſtrength by the different methods of uſe, it is both elegant and convenient and is frequently found in the extemporaneous preſcriptions of their bretheren in England.

The above Genuine Medicine, as well as many others of the firſt celibrity may be had by appointment of G. Shaw, of Mr. G. Bailey, Wilmington, Dr. Barrill, Maiden Lane, New-York, Meſſrs. Bailey and Walker, Charleſton, William Black, Salem, (N. J.) Charles Hunitch, Lancaſter, A. C. Jorden, Norfolk, John Roberts, do. David Keen, Sweet Springs, Virginia, R. Lee, Baltimore, I. & J. Mantz, Fredericktown, Maryland, G. W. Mancius, Albany, Dr. Vanſolingen, New-York, Meſſrs. Titford & Son, do. Meſſrs. Roſs & Douglas, Pittſburg, John Webſter, Wilmington, James Wilſon, do. Richard Winter & Co. Savannah, and in every principal town in the United States.

N.B. The public are deſired to enquire for Whitehead's Eſſence of Muſtard, all others being a baſe and ſpurious imitation.
GEO. SHAW.
129, Cheſnut-ſtreet, where Venders may be ſupplied.
"Caution againſt Counterfeits."
Agents are appointed by G. Shaw in every principal town of the United States, and there is no certainty of purchaſing the Genuine Eſſence of Muſtard in any part of America, unleſs it is ſigned on the outſide wrapper by G. Shaw, No. 129, Cheſnut ſtreet, Philadelphia, where ſhopkeepers are ſupplied and a liberal diſcount allowed them.

PHILADELPHIA,

FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 17.

From the GENTLEMAN'S MAGAZINE.

West Moulsey, December 6.

MR. URBAN,

WHILST we glory in the actions of our seamen, and the unprecedented one under Nelson of the Nile vibrates in a Briton's breast, we must rejoice in whatever titles and rewards a grateful country confers. Amidst a train of such thoughts, which swell at public success, I trust we have some favourable ones to spare, when we hear that a meritorious fellow creature is advanced to the summit of her wishes; and, as it fell to me first to bring forward the extraordinary and exemplary conduct, I have now the satisfaction of mentioning the promotion of the heroic "Lancashire Collier Girl."

We refer you to the solid character given of her in a former magazine*, and which met the approbation of those who value merit in all stations—nor the least when it shines through the humblest. I allow, with the benevolent Hannah Moore†, that it is dangerous to launch out in praise of living characters, especially when not shielded by education; but we trust we shall prove what we said of Betty Hodson‡ has not bedizened her fancy, nor is her humility in the least done away; and we proceed in speaking without any fear that it ever will.

We naturally feel proud in being from the same country with those in high professions who distinguish themselves. Since the former part was written, I have mixed very much in the quiet walks of life; and, in passing from village to village, never left a cottage without something to remember it by; and, whether it was from the welcome with which they gave me a draught of buttermilk, or offered a chair, or pointed out a better road to me, the manner was all truth and heart: and amidst such civilities I journeyed on. Well then am I prepared to feel proud in being of the same country, and having happily lived for a short time in the village, which gave birth to our heroine.

Lancashire teems with a hardy race, ever amongst the foremost to come forward in person and money, that sterling way of putting expressions of loyalty to proof. The disaffected of them are a very little set indeed; but, like others of the same principles, as it met their views, endeavored by rough clamor to make it believed they were a multitude; or, by secret machinations (now happily unravelled) of the smallness of their numbers.

About three years ago, and in consequence of the momentous period, a nobleman raised a regiment of Fencible Infantry; and, tho' the country was supposed to be drained of its stoutest men, he was held in such just estimation, the battalion was soon complete in men nearly, if not equal in size to its broad shouldered militia.

His paternal attention to his former regiment during the last war; his previous activity in assisting to complete the Old Manchester volunteers; and his notice of the remains after their honourable return from abroad; had secured to him the confidence of the soldiers.

Between this exalted person and Benevolus the strictest friendship commenced in class-fellowship at school, and grew with their years; and had the state of his health permitted, we should probably have seen him next in rank to his friend, and equally active in exertions. But, though the blessing of health is denied him, it is noble to see the perfect resignation with which he bears the want of it.

On the occasion he liberally subscribed; and his domestics, following the example spontaneously, made up a purse for the same cause. Betty was not asked to give any thing as it was known she had a very empty pocket; her willingness was of course never doubted. And yet she did not wish to be left out; and quietly went to the house-keeper to borrow five-shillings, which was thus prefaced: "The sen, Modom, that ewer maister as gin a leange som a mone to th' resin a regiment a sodiers to feight th' French when they cum, an that aw th' servonts an gin sumhot but me." The request being instantly granted, she said, "When th' French doa cum, if weemen ma feight, I'll feight as ard as I con."

Not satisfied with words and giving alone, she was observed for several days thoughtful, and at times very uneasy: and the cause soon burst out. She had a brother, the only male remains of her wasted family, who was a supernumerary husbandman upon the estate. All her spare time had been taken up in persuading this darling brother to enlist in the regiment; and her master told me she was heard thus to reason with him: "Foks sen th' French ar cummin, and that teir ar rascots enn he Englond wud be fane ont:—tha knoa, lad, wark's neaw a das skearse:—tha art getten a steout mon neaw:—soa tha mun larn t' feight, and goa wi the nebor lads, or theyle caw the kewearts." By such language she at last persuaded her brother to enlist, strengthened him with resolutions; and, when he went to join his regiment, she was almost heart-broken. I am told the parting between them was most affecting indeed; and that it was some time before she recovered herself.

Doth not this specimen of our Collier girl confirm what was said of the dauntless character of a miner? Nor doth it lessen her early filial duties.

* Vol. LXV. p. 179.

† In a conversation previous to the first insertion in the Gentleman's Magazine.

‡ Her master took me into his kitchen, on pretence of shewing me the extent of it. She heard us come, and fidled out; but, on being called, came, and without the least confusion, gave an account of the utility of the kitchen utensils. It is really astonishing, a young creature of so slender a make could have born such excessive labour.

The above account might have dwelt in silence, had not I this morning received a letter which mentions.

"The conduct of Betty Hodson has always been so exemplary, I have made her my Cook, in the place of one who had served me faithfully for more than twenty years, and who was last summer married to one of my tenant's sons, an honest and industrious man; and they are now settled upon a farm within a mile of my house."

Thou, my friend Urban, who hast often witnessed the many ramblings of my thoughts wilt know how rejoiced we are at this her promotion; and thou wilt judge of the magnitude of it when I tell thee with whom she associates, and which an honorable videlicet shall explain. Nor do I think there is a person in the kingdom under fifty years of age, or even above it, can boast of so reverential a list as the master of this family. The coachman has lived in the family forty years, the gamekeeper thirty, his groom nineteen, his house-steward seventeen, his own servant fourteen, the laundry-maid twelve, our cook twelve—and those who have not been so long, promise to be worthy of being companions of the above faithful and contented individuals.

What an example to those men of fortune who would wish to keep the same faces constantly about them, but are too much absorbed in the great world to pursue the right way!

Benevolus lives upon the estate his father did before him; and happy would it be if it were as much the fashion for the opulent, as it undoubtedly is their interest to do so, both on moral and political reasons.

Yours, &c.

A RAMBLER.

From the New-York, Gazette.

MR. LANG,

There is nothing which contributes more towards misleading the good Yeomanry of our country, than the circulation of such papers as the Argus, Aurora, &c. These papers, at the expence of whom we know not, are industriously circulated in all part of the United States—they are read by a class of people who never do, or have not time to investigate their contents, and take for granted that they have (as they appear to have) the good of the country in view. Nothing is more false. These papers are open to the effusions of a set of disappointed men, and those who are seeking for offices. They would willingly overturn the government to accomplish their wishes. These are the men that foment ALL the internal divisions which now exist in the United States. Nothing need be said by way of illustrating these facts—they are generally known. How (it may be asked,) is this evil to be checked? ——To me there appears but one way—that is, that the government should hold out an inducement to men of abilities, to print and circulate Federal papers in those country towns yet without a press—Such towns are numerous, and would require but little assistance from government. This would operate more powerfully towards the suppression of Seditious publications, than any thing else; and might, in the end, save millions to our country, and the blood of many misled people, who, through the arts of the designing, are made to become the open enemies of our Constitution and government.

It appears from a recent calculation, accurate as it could be made from the various circumstances of the French Revolution, that France has lost, by war or domestic crimes and distractions, no less than 2,500,000 men since the year 1782 to the present moment. It was once stated by Dumas in the Legislative Body. that the whole of the National Guards throughout the Republic had been renewed three times within the space of seven years. [Lond. pap.

She was fitted out from the Havannah, and had taken two American brigs and one schr. previous to her capture.

The Patty, sailed from Liverpool on the 16th January, in order to join the fleet that was appointed to leave Cork on the 25th but was blown off the coast by a gale of wind. She touched at Madeira for water, and there found his majesty's ship Camilla, with general Maitland and suite, so far advanced on their voyage to St. Domiongo.

The American schr. Hope, capt. Moulton, from St. Domingo, bound to Beverly, with a cargo of sugar and coffee, sent in by his majesty's brig Pelican, arrived on Tuesday.

Tuesday his majesty's ship Surprise, captain Hamilton, arrived from a cruise, and brought in with her the French privateer schr. Le Lion, of six 4 pounders, and the brig Betsey, of Baltimore, bound to Charlestown, prize to the above privateer. They cut them out of a creek near Barracoa, and the crew of the privateer escaped on shore.

MR. FENNO,

AS the quarantine of vessels at the Lazaretto will commence the 15th instant, it may be of use to publish the regulations respecting it, as contained in the 5th section of the Health Law of this State.

Section V. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That all ships and vessels, as well vessels of war, as merchant vessels, arriving at said Lazaretto, from any port or place in the Mediterranean or the seas or waters connected with the same, to the eastward of the Straits of Gibralter, or from the coast of Africa, without the Straits of Gibralter, and the territory of the same, and the ports of Africa, other than the Cape of Good Hope, in the Indian Ocean, and from the main land of North to South America, or the West India Islands, between the latitude of the river St. Mary in Georgia, and the beginning of the latitude thirty degrees south of the equator, and from Batavia in the islands of Java, from the fifteenth day of May to the first day of October, shall there be detained at anchor, and discharge the whole of their cargoes and ballast, which, together with the vessels, bedding, cloathing, and every other article on board, which may be supposed capable of retaining infection, shall be perfectly cleansed and purified, under the direction of the resident physician and quarantine master, at the cost and charge of the owner or consignee, agreeably to such rules and regulations as the board of health shall, from time to time, direct for that purpose, and when any of the said vessels, cargoes, bedding, cloathing and other articles, shall be effectually cleansed and purified, the resident physician and quarantine master, upon receiving the full amount of the expences and charges, for storing, keeping, cleansing, and purifying the same, shall make re-delivery thereof to the captain, master, owner, or consignee, of the ship or vessels in which the same were imported; and deliver to the captain or master of said ship or vessel, the certificate of the facts, to be presented at the health office as aforesaid, and discharge from quarantine such of the crew or passengers of said ship or vessel, as may be in a healthy state; provided, the said vessel shall have been at least fifteen days under quarantine, she shall be furnished with one or more ventilators, in such form as the board of health shall approve, whereof public notice shall be given, in at least two of the newspapers printed in this city, within two weeks after the passing of this act, in which case the cargo of the said vessel shall be re-delivered, and shall be discharged as aforesaid; provided she has been at least ten days under quarantine: And the said captain, master, owner, or consignee may transport the cargo so re-delivered, or any part thereof from the Lazaretto in lighters which shall be permitted to receive the same, under such precaution as the board of health may adopt, to prevent a communication between the persons conducting such lighters, and the vessels, cargoes, and persons under quarantine. By this Day's Mail.

BOSTON, May 11.

Saturday Morning 5 o'clock.

This morning about five minutes past two, a fire took in some out-buildings in the vicinity in Newbury street, which in the course of three hours consumed thirteen dwelling-houses, and a number of other buildings; besides damaging others. No lives, we are happy to announce were lost, although several houses were inveloped in flames, before the inhabitants thereof were wakened. Mr. John Jarvis lost nine or ten of the houses—Messrs Merckel, Cole, Childs, and Mrs. Hunt, occupied the others. Messrs. Timothy Pease, jun. Mr. Wheelwright, Mr. Kenny, Mr. Graupner, and others whose names we have not at this early period been able to ascertain, were occupants of Mr. Jarvis's buildings. The loss in furniture, &c. is very considerable. An almost intire calm enabled the citizens to prescribe limits to a threatening conflagration. Our brethren of the neighbouring towns were prompt to our assistance—they have our thanks. Mr. J's. houses, we learn, were not insured, as reported. Many of the sufferers have claims on the beneficence of the public.

HARTFORD, May 13.

On Thursday last, the annual Election of the Officers of the State Government, was holden in this City. On Wednesday his Excellency the Govetnor, and his Suite, crossed the river about 4 in the afternoon, and was received by his Company of Horse Guards, commanded by Major Jones, and escorted to Major Ripley's tavern, where the customary military exercises were performed by the troops. On Thursday morning the House of Representatives met, and organized themselves; and at 11, his Excellency was escorted from his lodgings, by his Company of Foot Guards, commanded by Capt. Root, and a Band of Music to the State House; where the procession, consisting of the House and foot Guards, the Sherriffs and Officers of Justice, the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and both Houses of the General Assembly, and the Clergymen, was formed and, proceeded to the North Meeting House, and attended divine service. The Sermon was delivered by the Rev. Cyprian Strong, of Chatham, from I Chron, xxix. II. and was strongly characterized by the sound reasoning, the fervent patriotism, and the evangelical doctrines, which distinguish the performances of that worthy minister. The Musick was directed by Mr. Benjamin, and we think has been rarely, if ever, excelled. After public worship was closed, the procession returned to the State-House, and the Legislature proceeded to count the votes of the Freemen for the officers of government, for the ensuing year. The military performances were on both Wednesday and Thursday, executed with a good degree of exactness, particularly in firing. We were sorry to observe, however, that the ranks in the Infantry were not filled. We should hope that so priviledged a service, would not fail of meeting with encouragement from our young men—The day passed without any untoward accident, to damp the pleasures which seemed to animate the countenances of the numerous collection of people assembled, to be the spectators of one of the most pleasing scenes ever exhibited in the world—a free and virtuous, and a happy people, met together, to clothe the most enlightened, and the most worthy of their fellow-citizens with the garb of magistracy.

The House of Representatives chose Elizur Goodrich, Esq. Speaker. and John C. Smith, and Calvin Goodward, Esqrs. Clerks, by large Majorities.—Scarce a vote could be found for any man, whose character wears the stamp of Jacobinism. The pomp of perverted declamation has lost its charms; the whining cant of hypocrisy meets with very general contempt; and it is to be hoped that ere long, the more dark, deep-laid vileness, of more wicked, as well as more artful men, will be exposed in all its deformity, and the state no longer disgraced by the election of men to any office of honor or profit, whose characters are not fair; men who will be base enough even to swear that they are federal, to obtain a seat in the legislature.

In the evening, an excellent discorse was delivered at the North Meeting-House, to a very crouded auditory, by the Reverend Dr. Trumbull, of North Haven.

NEW-YORK, May 16.

A young English lad by the name of Robert, lately arrived from Surrinam, on Tuesday evening, in a state of intoxication, went out at the scuttle of Mrs. Babcock's house, in Pine-street, and threw himself into the yard, where he was found dead.—Verdict, accidental death.

Yesterday morning, a disfigured body of a man was taken out of Franklin's dock. From his having a thimble and some measures in his pocket, it is supposed he was a Taylor. Verdict, accidental death.

SAVANNAH, May 3.

The first day of May being devoted to the Tutelar Saint of America, has on that account been usually kept as the anniversary of the military associations of this place. In conformity with this principle, the three volunteer corps of this town, consisting of the Artillery, under the command of Capt. Robertson; the Chatham Rangers, under the command of Capt. Young; and the Light-Horse, under the command of Capt. Gordon, on Wednesday met on parade, and went through several military monœuvres, evincing their previous attention to discipline.

About 4 o'clock, the three companies sat down to dinner in convenient booths, erected for each, and in a line with each other, on the south common. The Chief Justice of the United States, with several of the civil and military officers of this state, and a number of private gentlemen, were divided among the companies, as invited guests. After dinner, the toasts which are subjoined, were drank by all the companies. A short interlude of music, from a Marque, which was erected behind the booths, was the signal for a toast. The three first distinguished by a federal salute of 16 guns, and the others by three.

At sunset the companies retired in military order, leaving only a quarter guard to attend to their invited guests. During the whole day the utmost harmony in every respect prevailed, and at table a lively, but decent and social mirth, animated every countenance.

At the present period, when such efforts have been made by a foreign nation, to avail themselves of a spirit of party, which, unfortunately has had too much place among us—the unanimity of opinion of so large and respectable a portion of our fellow citizens—and the social and agreeable manner in which this was manifested, must give real pleasure to every friend of his country.

May 10.

Yesterday evening we had the pleasure to see a French privateer anchor in our harbour. She is a prize to the United States armed brig Eagle, commanded by captain George H. Campbell, and was captured on the 5th ult. near the island of Antigua, after a five hours chace. She was fitted out at Guadaloupe, and is called the Bon Pere, mounted 4 six-pounders, (two of which were thrown overboard during the chace) and had 55 men. She had been only a few days at sea, and had not captured any thing when captain Campbell met with her; no resistance was attempted by her crew. On approaching the city, the privateer saluted, and was answered by the Revenue Cutter, and three or four armed ships, lying at Five Fathom Hole.

We learn that captain Campbell recaptured an English sloop, soon after he left our coast; and that since his arrival in the West-Indies he ran ashore a French privateer, which immediately went to pieces. The prize left him at St. Kitt's the 19th ultimo.

The trial of the prize will take place shortly.

Yesterday arrived the schooner Venner, captain Washburne, 13 days from St Thomas—on his passage here was chased by a French brig, but fortunately two British cruisers hove in sight and gave chace to the brig, by which means he escaped.

Bridgetown, (Barbadoes) Aprill 9.

The frigate United States came into Carlisle Bay yesterday evening. Since our last accounts of this vessel she had captured a French privateer, and recaptured an American vessel, and an English schooner of 16 guns, supposed to be worth about 20,000l. sterling. Whatever good fortune attends commodore Barry will but increase the public esteem which he already possesses, as to see merit rewarded is the generous wish of every British bosom.

April 13.

The Carterer packet, which we had anxiously expected for the last fortnight, was taken on the 29th ultomo, in lat. 13, 9, long. 56, 30, by the French privateer Duquesne, of 16 nine pounders, but we are happy to add, and which is a further panegyric upon the American Navy, that she was recaptured on the 3d inst. by the Constitution frigate and sent into Martinico.

His Excellency Governor Rickets breakfasted with Com. Barry on board the frigate United States on Tuesday morning, and was received with a complimentary salute on going on board; the Governor and the Commodore, and other respectable guests, afterwards dined with Lieut. Col. Mayers, one of the Representatives for this town; and the day after the United States sailed with the fleet from hence.

The watchful vigilance of the commanders of the American cruisers in these seas, while it promises to the United States a flourishing Navy, affords much protection to the British commerce of the West Indies, as by their indefatigable attention, several vessels of the enemy have been captured, and a great many English as well as Americans retaken.

CHARLESTON, May 4.

Extract of a letter from London to the Editors of this Gazette.

"The political appearance of Europe is as gloomy as ever.

"It is generally believed here, there will be a new league in Germany as soon as English gold and Russian soldiers have strengthened the minds of some fearful temporizing foreigners.

"The conquest of Naples by the French is true; but I believe it will be of little duration, as there are Russian and English fleets in that part of Europe.

"Probably the union of Ireland will lay over for a time.

"England bears its head high as ever.—The new tax on income, being just, is liked vastly by the majority of the people, and will enable Pitt to carry the war on till France is humbled, or till, with the downfall of England, we see the times of Huns and Vandals come again."

BALTIMORE, May 15.

A fracas took place on Monday evening last near the wind-mill hill, in which a person by the name of Robert Briscoe, by endeavoring to make peace between the parties, received a blow which unfortunately put a period to his existence. The perpetrators were two apprentices to the sail-making business, who immediately made off.

Arrived yesterday, sloop Betsey, captain Cuthman, of this port, the latter to sail in 3 or 4 days; and a schooner belonging to Charleston.

The Elizabeth, belonging to Messrs. D. Stewart and Sons, from Leghorn, is in the river below.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 20.

A ship of 80 guns and two corvettes, built by the engineer Le Brun, were launched on the 15th ult. in spite of the cold. As soon as this operation was over, Commodore Sir Sydney Smith, who was present with a number of his officers, was admitted to a private audience of the Grand Signior. The result of this audience was an application which does honor to Sir Sydney Smith. It may may be remembered that forty six French prisoners who had left Alexandria for Corfu, having anchored at Sypliante, were carried off by the inhabitans of that island, who took them to Constantinople, whence they were sent to prison. From this rigorous imprisonment they appealed to the British minister as prisoners to rear admiral Nelson at Aboukir, but as they could not support their assertions with any proof, Mr. Spencer Smith could only assure them that the Porte would set them at liberty as soon as they should have established the truth of their assertion. The commodore has however employed the greatest earnestness in soliciting the discharge of these men from the Porte, and he has obtained it. A detachment of soldiers were accordingly ordered from the Tyger to the ancient palace of France, where the English maintain them till they shall be sent home on their parole to this country.

HOLLAND,

Miserable Holland, drained by French friendship of every possession she enjoyed, is at last delivered up to the fury of the merciless element she emerged from. Deprived by French rapacity of the means, and by her disorganizing principles, of the method and subordination by which alone she subsisted, her dykes are broken down, and the sea is rushing in to revenge the brutal madness and infatuation under the influence of which she yielded to the empire of her execrable tyrants.

We are informed, that Major Strubing, and Captain Shaw, of the Pottsgrove troop of Dragoon, have recently been attacked by armed ruffians in disguise, and nearly deprived of life.

London papers to the 27th March have been received at Halifax via Liverpool—The principal article of importance they contain, is a notification from Lord Grenville, declaring the ports of the Batavian republic to be in a state of blockade, and that all vessels entering after this notification, will be dealt with according to the law of nations.

Yesterday the Circuit Court was again engaged in hearing evidence and pleadings on the motion of Mr. Lewis for a new trial of John Fries, lately convicted of High Treason. Two or three hours were occupied in examining witnesses; after which, Mr. Lewis spoke at considerable length in support of the motion—when, finding himself indisposed, he begged to have leave to finish his discourse this day—which was granted, and the Court adjourned till this morning, ten o'clock.

MR. FENNO,

In the Aurora of this morning the editor has misrepresented the transaction which took place at his office yesterday. He has stated that a number of persons to the amount of near Thirty entered the office of the Aurora and assaulted him, while some of the band acted as centinels on the compositors, and others with presented pistols kept some persons who happened to be in the office, at bay, and that he was stricken by above ten different persons.

It is false that there were thirty, or near that number: there were but fifteen persons who called upon him for the purpose stated in your Gazette of yesterday. It is also false that he was stricken by above ten different persons.

He received but three blows with the hand except the one he received in the office, and two of the three were from the same person. The stripes he afterwards received in behalf of the several troops, were with a cowskin and from the same hand.

The Editor of the Aurora did repeatedly and positively refuse to name a time when he would mention the troop alluded to by him in his publication of the 14th instant. He was pressed to name a time, which he also refused.

It is absolutely false that any one of the officers took with him a stick, sword, or pistol—Those who had usually carried sticks, were particularly careful to leave them behind.

The Grand Inquest of Montgomery county at May term 1799—after compleating the business assigned them by the Court, took into consideration the importance of the ensuing general Election, and agreed to recommend to their fellow-citizens JAMES ROSS Esq. of Pittsburgh, as a suitable person to fill the office of Governor for the State of Pennsylvania.
